

2023 LTMGC Tournament and Handicap FAQs

Where can I find the full schedule of tournaments?

The full schedule is published on our website at this link: 2023 LTMGC Tournament Schedule

Does it cost anything to participate in a tournament?

Participation in all tournaments except for the Member/Guest is included in your registration fee. There is no limit on who can participate. However, your registration fee does not cover the cost of green fees, carts, and range balls. Those are paid at the Pro Shop on the day of the tournament except for Annual Members of Lone Tree Golf Club and Hotel.

How do I register for a tournament?

For most of our one-day events, you can register by clicking on the “Playing” link contained in the e-mail invitation or any of the tournament reminder e-mails that you will receive for each tournament. These generally go out starting around 21 days before the tournament. You can also sign up on the Golf Genius LTMGC Portal Directory

Multi-day events, Match Play and some of our team events will have a separate registration page. You will receive an e-mail with a link to the registration page around three weeks before the tournament.

The signup deadline for each event is 10 days before the day of the tournament.

Do I need to do anything else besides register for a tournament?

Around 10 days before each tournament we will send out a list of players who have registered for that tournament. You are required to review this list to ensure that you are on the list if you think you should be and NOT on the list if you think shouldn't be. It is a hassle if you register for a tournament and then withdraw at the last minute or worse, do not show up. Both of those situations will cause you to incur one or more penalty strokes in a future event.

Are the LTMGC tournaments handicapped events?

Most of our events are flighted (except for the 4-man team events). Most flights have net only payouts. However, a few flights have either gross only or one gross and the rest net payouts. We usually pay around 30% to 40% of the field in each event. First place in your flight is usually worth $100 (or $100 per day for multi-day events). All prizes are awarded as pro shop credit.

How are other details about each tournament communicated?

A Notice to Competitors (NTC) is published for each tournament a few days before the tournament date.

Can I pick my own tee time and/or foursome?

Tee times and pairings are determined by the tournament committee. We do not accept any special requests.

How is my handicap determined?

If you are a new member, you will initially play to your WHS handicap. Once you start playing in our tournaments your handicap will be formulaically adjusted to reflect how you play in our tournaments. Once you have 5 tournament scores, your tournament handicap is entirely based on your tournament performance with the proviso that your tournament index can't exceed your WHS index by more than 2.0 strokes. Current tournament handicaps are posted on the LTMGC web site at this link:

Are there any team events?

We have a few team events. For 2-man events, you are encouraged to find your own partner. If you can't, we will try to find you a partner but that is not guaranteed. For 4-man events, including our opening tournament (The Memorial), you are randomly assigned to a team.

Are there any skins games or other side pots?

There is a skins game for most of our Individual Stroke Play (ISP) events plus a ringer pool in the club championship and a Senior pool for those 65 & older in the club championship. An e-mail is sent out shortly before the first tournament with instructions on how to sign up for these side pots.

How is tournament scoring handled and where can I see tournament results?

We use Golf Genius for all tournament scoring. You should download the Golf Genius app from either the Apple store or Google Play. You can generally find any information you will want to know by accessing the Golf Genius LTMGC Portal Directory
